How to Reach Amawalk

AMAWALK is located in Westchester County thirty miles north of New York City. The entrance to the Nursery is opposite the railroad station at Amawalk, on the Putnam Branch of the New York Central.

This railroad connects in New York City with the Hudson River Division of the New York Central Railroad at High Bridge, and with the Sixth and Ninth Avenue elevated roads at Sedgwick Avenue. Amawalk is eight miles east of Peekskill on the Hudson River Division and seven miles northwest of Mount Kisco on the Harlem Division of the New York Central.

The Nursery is located on the State Road from Briarcliff to Lake Mahopac. The main roads in every direction are State Roads and motorists will find them in excellent condition.

AMAWALK Trees are being specified and planted by the foremost landscape architects for private estate, municipal, institutional and, in fact, all types of modern Landscape-Architectural development throughout the country.

It has many times been suggested that Amawalk gather together a few photographs showing typical plantings of its large specimen, as recently planned and executed by leaders in the profession. "Amawalk Trees" is the title of this photographic presentation of their work, completed with the use of our large specimens—more than 500,000 trees now growing under ideal conditions at Amawalk from which to select.
